

A key man in the Kim Sigler administration at Lansing, now bidding for another two year tenure, is John A. Perkins, newly appointed controller of the state department of administration.

Many of the governmental streamlining reforms, advocated unsuccessfully last spring by Governor Sigler, bear the stamp of Perkins and, through him, the blessing of political science experts at the University of Michigan. Principal achievement to date is the new state department of administration.

Re-election of Sigler will continue Perkins in the focal point of the reform movement at the state capital. Hence, controller's views are of more than casual importance. Here are recent quotations:

"Several former governors of Michigan pointed in the direction of the new Department of Administration without reaching the sound conclusion of Governor Sigler. In his first inaugural speech of 1935, Governor Fitzgerald said that, 'an important step in the reorganization of State Government is the elimination of the state administrative board... The many administrative duties now vested in the board can be handled better by state officers and their qualified assistants than by the present cumbersome board. I have been a member of the state administrative board for four years, and I cannot recall a single accomplishment which could justify its existence.'"

"Two years later, Governor Murphy advocated a department of finance 'in which may be centralized and consolidated all accounting functions apart from auditing, budget preparation and financial control, and state purchasing.'"

"By 1943 the need had become so obvious that Governor Kelly, after noting that there were in excess of 100 agencies of state government, in his inaugural message stated that, 'The constitution makes it clear that it is the duty of Governor to acquaint himself with the problems, accomplishments, and possible improvements of each one of these many and varied departments of state government, striving always to correlate their various activities into an efficient, economical working unit.'"

"In order to fulfill this duty it is my opinion that the conclusion should be provided by law with a department to be known as the department of business administration, directed by a business administrator under the personal supervision of and directly responsible to the governor, and clothed with proper and adequate authority."

Perkins points out that this department, as created by the legislature, lacks the real tools for getting results — namely, budget control, accounting and purchasing. Hence its death was inevitable, and the legislature ordered it in 1945.

By relieving the state administrative board of these important functions which were being actually administered by administrative employees not responsible directly to the governor, the Sigler reform would permit the board to become the "governor's cabinet," according to Perkins.

As has been pointed out previously by Perkins in this column, the new department will not result immediately in large dollar savings.

"In the first place, the department's own expenditures may actually increase slightly as it undertakes the long-neglected task of better servicing the line departments and institutions and requiring of them better operations."

Business organizations have long realized that it was wise to spend a dollar, in order to save several dollars.

Perkins expresses some concern about the future of the new department.

"Unthinking resentment against increased tax burdens may bring bitter and unfounded criticisms against the department," he states.

Why "increased tax burdens?" Because the State of Michigan, must seek new sources of revenue as a result, "largely although not entirely," of the diversion to local units or a major part of its sales tax revenue.

If the voters in November reaffirm diversion of sales tax revenue to local governments (as forecasts indicate to be likely) Perkins now appears to be likely Perkins forecasts increased taxes in order to stave off "a deficit of millions of dollars."

Looking for someone to blame, voters may jump to the conclusion that the Sigler-sponsored reform—the new state department of administration—is responsible.

At least, that's the 1948 apprehension of Controller Perkins. Time will tell.

Wave Fumbles To Gaylord

The Grayling Green Wave after outplaying and outscoring the Gaylord Blue and Gold for the first half, fumbled the game to the northers in the final half, winding up on the short end of an 18 to 7 score.

Grayling fumbled five times with the Blue Devils recovering four of them. In the second period, Gaylord took over the ball and with their big fullback, Suber doing the yeoman's work drove to a touchdown, but, failed to convert. Shortly after Victor Papendick, one of the Wave's forward wall sparkplugs blocked a Gaylord punt and Grayling scored a few plays later and converted the extra point to gain a 7 to 6 lead at halftime.

During the first part of the second half, Grayling seemed to lose their drive and consequently were in hot water most of the time. At the end of the third quarter, Claude Parkinson fumbled on a punt return with the Blue Devils coming up with the ball. The next play was a Gaylord sleeper which was good for another touchdown. They again failed to convert.

A few plays later, Jack Trudeau fumbled a bad pass from center with Gaylord taking over on the Wave's 30 yard line. After two running plays, Gaylord completed a pass to the Grayling two yard line. They scored on the next play, making the final score of 18 to 7.

The Grayling forward wall played good defensive ball as the Blue Devils made only six first downs which is quite low for three touchdowns. For defense, Grayling was weak in spots and Coach Joe Bogart is working the Grayling squad this week on a defense against aerial thrusts.

Bob Rasmussen turned in a good job running, but fumbled to halt nearly every Grayling drive. Coach Bogart said that several changes were going to be made in the Wave lineup with Bill Worden moving into the backfield from pivot position. Trudeau is going to be moved into the quarterback slot with Parkinson moving over to left half.

The Wave's mentor said he was attempting to build up a going combination this week. The first thing, he said, was to teach the runners to hold onto the ball.

Grayling will field a much more wide open offense this week as they will seek their first victory. The idea is to get somebody loose, Coach Bogart said. He added that the game should prove a good one for the fans as Mancelona is credited with trying anything in the books in their offensive surges.

Hold Teachers Reception

With vacation over and the opening of our schools, activities settled themselves into a steady normal trend and this comes the desire of the public to meet the teachers with whom the children are thrown into daily contact. For several years this meeting has been made possible by the Parent reception given by the Parent Association.

Guard Observes 2 Years Progress

Swinging into another full year of armory training, officers and men of the Michigan National Guard paused a moment this week to look back on two years of progress in postwar reorganization, according to the Adjutant General's office.

Activation of the first postwar units of the Michigan National Guard took place two years ago when the 127th Infantry Headquarters and the 107th Bomb Squadron with attached units came into being at the Detroit-Wayne Major Airport on September 23, 1946. The State Headquarters Detachment, first army unit to be activated in the post-war, Michigan National Guard, will observe its second anniversary on October 28.

Local health departments or the Bureau of Engineering, Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, will provide information on sanitation problems and the requirements for approval.

Looking ahead the Michigan National Guard is making preparations to inaugurate a new three-day training program designed to cut in half the time needed to train Guardsmen for their role in the nation's M-Day defense. Reorganization of the Michigan National Guard's 46th Infantry Division along the lines of the postwar table of organization and equipment, scheduled for this year, will increase the division's firepower and overall efficiency.

Name Sport Club Committees

President Willard Cornell of the Grayling Sportsmen's Club at his first meeting of the year named heads of thirteen committees and offered five resolutions passed by the directors and officers to the club for action.

The five resolutions were adopted with a small amendment on one of them. The most important dealt with a bow hunters and rifle hunters jamboree and with the conduct of members toward a visiting speaker.

Following are the men named to head the various committees of the club: Finance, Richard Lovely; program, Bob Meeker; refreshments, Carl Easton; membership, Hurl Deckrow; publicity, Charles Piper; bow hunting, Frank Scott; rifle hunting, Clarence Roberts and Joe Jorgenson; fishing, Jerry McClain; canoe race, Ray Snider; park use, Leo Leach; legislative, Dr. E. A. VanVleet; winter sports fact finding, Paul Jones, and planning, Robert Strong.

The next club meeting has been set for October 20 with the newly elected officers and directors of the club meeting in a joint session with the directors of the Grayling Winter Sports-Park, Inc., on Monday, October 11.

Blaze Damages Court House

A Saturday afternoon blaze damaged the jury room at the Crawford County Court House to some extent. As the building was closed at about 1:30 P. M. last Saturday afternoon, no sign of smoke was evident in the building. Later on in the afternoon the entire second floor and attic were filled with smoke as the fire was discovered.

The floor, walls and ceiling in the jury room were badly burned and damaged and the records of the Crawford County Selective Service Board which were stored in the room were also partially damaged.

Sheriff William Goinick, Lewis Stillwagon and Delores Goinick were credited with holding the damage to a minimum with fire extinguishers until the Grayling Fire Department arrived. The Sheriff stayed in the building for some time to watch the charged members for a recurrence of the fire and while waiting immediately cleaned up the excess water and debris which saved further damage to the floor and first floor room ceilings.

Resorts Should Plan Major Repairs Now

Michigan resorts should undertake their necessary major repairs to insure completion in time to qualify for "Sanitation Approved" signs before the season opens next year, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

Such work in many cases can be started now, while the season is slack, but the resorts still open. A delay until spring may bring problems of labor shortages, unavailability of materials, and lack of time before the season starts, according to Department engineers.

Local health departments or the Bureau of Engineering, Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, will provide information on sanitation problems and the requirements for approval.

Service Held For Robert Church

Final rites were held Monday in Utica, Michigan for Robert J. Church, 27, son of Calvin Church of Grayling, and Grace Church of Utica, who was drowned a week ago Sunday in New York Harbor.

The Rev. William S. Pryor officiated at the services which were held at the Schwarzkopf Funeral home and interment was in Utica Cemetery.

The deceased was born in Warren, Michigan, October 27, 1921. In 1934 the family moved to Grayling, where he attended high school and graduated from the high school.

During World War III he served in the Merchant Marine and was a member of the Naval reserve. At the time of his death he was a Marine engineer in the employ of the Standard Oil Co.

A birthday supper was served complete with ice cream and cake and the group then progressed to the theater to round out a happy time.

Motor City Classic League Leaders To Bowl In Grayling

Pictured above are the new bowling alleys at Spike's Recreation which will be the scene of the match play of two Detroit members of the Motor City Classic League on Saturday evening. Although bowling has been in progress on the alleys, during this week, the match play of these two bowling gladiators on Saturday evening will be considered as the "official opening" for the new Grayling bowling center.

Hold 2 Day Rifle Match

The 39th annual Michigan State 30 caliber rifle matches were held at Camp Grayling last Saturday and Sunday with a record entry of 208 riflemen. Sponsored by the Michigan Rifle and Pistol association, the entries competed for both individual and team honors in accordance with rules of the National Rifle Association.

Both civilian and military rifle men were among the contestants with a 32-year-old Lansing mechanic, Harold L. Johnson, firing in the tourney for the first time winning the coveted "General" Heinrich A. Pickett trophy.

Johnson scored a 49 out of a possible 50 points in the difficult 100-shot prone match fire at 600 yards.

The gold medal winner accounted for his excellent showing with "just luck."

An unscheduled feature of the shoot Sunday evening was the stroll to water of three moose concerned deer at dusk. The trio crossed a few hundred yards in front of the battery of marksmen on their way to Lake Margrethe, causing a cease fire order until they had made their way past the line of fire.

Due to the heavy entry list this year, all events were not held. The meet was concluded Sunday evening because of darkness.

There will be one league game each week with every team meeting each other in a home and home exchange.

The locals first practice was set for Wednesday evening at 7 P. M. Anyone interested in trying for the team was invited to attend. Positions are wide open, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed LeDuc of West Branch announced the marriage of their daughter, Shirley Ann to Arthur Clough, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clough, Sr., of this City.

The vows were exchanged at St. Mary's parsonage before Rev. Fr. John Breitenstein on Thursday, September 30, at 10 o'clock in the morning. A single ring ceremony was used.

The bride wore a blue crepe ensemble and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Barbara Clough, the groom's sister was bridesmaid and was attired in a grey suit and a yellow rose corsage. Leo Lovely was best man.

Following the ceremony the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip in the Upper Peninsula and will be at home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaMotte, upon their return.

Install Lights At Airport

A squad of 8 men of the Michigan National Guard began the installation of runway and taxi strip lights at the Grayling McNamara Air field on Monday.

The lighting set was furnished by the State Department of Aeronautics and the Guard is installing them. They will be available for year around use and will be lighted on request to make night landings and flying easier.

Both runways are being lighted with white lights placed 400 feet apart on each side of the big concrete strips. There will be red lights across both ends of each runway. The taxi strips which form the boundaries of the field will also possibly be designed with lights to give flyers a general idea of the layout of the field in contrast to the pattern of the two big runways.

The control tower and wind indicator will also be lighted as aids to night flyers.

Two Classic Teams Clash At 9 P. M.

Two league leaders from the Motor City Classic League of Detroit will clash in a three game series for total pins at Spike's Recreation at 9 P. M. Saturday night. The pace-setting Detroit Gaskets who are currently leading the big city league will roll against the Maxwell Insurance team who are tied with them in the Classic league.

To bowling enthusiasts, this match would be comparable to having the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox in baseball or the Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers of football or Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Wolcott of fistic fame exhibiting their ability in Grayling.

There definitely are not many better bowling outfits in the world than the two squads that will appear in Grayling Saturday night. The Maxwell Insurance team bowled together as the Brunswick Mineralites for several years and boast of such outstanding bowlers as Walter Reppenhagen, member of the world famous Stroh's team and Harold Allen, holder of many Detroit, state and American Bowling Congress titles. The Gaskets are led by Rog Overmyer, a veteran Detroit Classic League bowler. Jack DiGiovanni, another prominent bowler, not only rolls up above 200 most of the time but puts on a comedy act that always brings down the house.

Both squads boast of game averages of 1,000 pins and better. In league play last week, the Gaskets rolled a 2,942 actual count. That means an average game for each member of the team of 196 pins. Maxwell Insurance the same night rolled 2971 which means their squad members averaged 198 pins per game. DiGiovanni rolled a 616 series for the "thunder" team that night, averaging better than 205 pins per game. Archie Jankowski led the Gasket squad that evening with a 636 for a game average of 212 pins per game.

These scores were described by a veteran bowler as fairly low for these teams. He also added that of all the bowling that he has witnessed, he felt that the Motor City Classic League was the world's toughest competition.

In a later evening's contest, in the Detroit Times All Star Classic, Maxwell Insurance set a season high record with 3157 total pins. The breakdown of the record game is as follows: Reppenhagen, 220-213-203; Allen, 237-158-192; DiGiovanni, 243-220-199; Lukach, 182-213-242; Rooney, 210-190-235.

Both teams are expected in Grayling at about 5 P. M. They will be entertained at a banquet by Mr. and Mrs. Harold MacNeven and will take to the new alleys at 9 P. M. to officially open Grayling's new sport spot.

Nine County People Injured

Nine Crawford County residents were injured in out of the county auto accidents last week. The injuries run from "extremely serious" to bruises, cuts and abrasions.

Early last week, Sister Mary Mercedes, Sister Mary Fidelia and Mrs. Helen Jankowski were injured in a car crash near Cadillac, while returning to Grayling from Grand Haven, where they had attended a funeral. All three are still confined to the Cadillac Hospital. Mrs. Jankowski is suffering from bruises and shock and is expected to be released soon. Sister Mary Mercedes and Sister Mary Fidelia are both in "serious" condition. The first hospital suffering from a fractured skull and vertebra and fractured arm while Sister Fidelia has a fractured pelvis.

Five younger Crawford County citizens were injured in a crash just south of Ithaca early Saturday morning. A car driven by Robert Rasmussen of Grayling turned over throwing James Douglas and Joan Madill through the top of the car. Both Douglas and Miss Madill were brought to the Grayling Hospital from the Clinton Memorial Hospital at St. Johns on Monday night. Both are suffering from skull fractures and are in "extremely serious" condition. The other occupants besides the driver were Edna Duncley and Joyce House. Both girls and Rasmussen were released from the St. Johns Hospital Sunday morning. All were suffering from cuts and bruises and Rasmussen also had a severe rib injury.

DISTRICT NURSES HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual fall meeting of the Grayling District Nurses Association was held at the Nurses home, Thursday evening, September 30th. Miss Hilda Edman, R. N., of Lansing, executive secretary of the M. S. N. A. was the guest speaker for the evening. Preceding the meeting officers of the district and members of the board of directors entertained Miss Edman at dinner at Shoppemans Inn.

Still Seeking First Grid Victory

The starting lineup of the Grayling Green Wave football squad which so far this year has dropped three decisions, is pictured above. They will take the field here Friday afternoon against an invading eleven from Mancelona with their sights trained on a victory. Pictured from left to right in the line are: Nelson, end; Krage, tackle; Lozon, guard; Worden, center; Papendick, guard; Feldhauser, tackle; Hanson, end. In the backfield, Peterson, quarterback; Rasmussen, fullback; and Parkinson and Trudeau, halfbacks.

C. A. P. NEWS

Members of the local flight of the Civilian Air Patrol attended the Mio Sportsmen's Club air show at the Lost Creek Sky Ranch last Sunday.

There were about 100 planes in attendance, they report, and a light plane race was held in which a Cessna 120 took first with a Globe Swift, second and another Cessna, third. A spot bombing contest was held. The "bombs" were a newspaper sheet filled with five pounds of flour.

Pat Miller of Detroit CAP parachute squad jumped from 4,000 feet. She made a delayed jump dropping 2,000 feet before pulling the rip cord. The West Branch CAP air show was moved back to October 10 in deference to the Mio show. Members of the local group are planning to attend.

Public Responding To Shoe Drive

The "Share Our Shoes" campaign now being conducted by the shoe retailers of Michigan is gaining momentum daily and the used shoes are pouring into barrels in shoe and department stores throughout the state.

Chairmen of the state drive being conducted by the Michigan Shoe Retailers Association is Jack W. DeCamp of East Lansing, who states that he is highly gratified at the reaction of both retailers and the public to this humanitarian enterprise. The DeCamp Shoe Store is located across the street from the Michigan State College campus with its hundreds of exchange students from every part of the world, and Mr. DeCamp reports that many of these students have expressed to him their appreciation of this highly action by the people of Michigan to help the unfortunate citizens of their native countries. Typically grateful was a student from the Netherlands who, with tears in his voice, told Mr. DeCamp that we in America can never realize how desperate is the need of the war-ravaged people in his and neighboring countries, and how much the protection and comfort of even a pair of shoes can mean to them.

There are probably few homes in our state which cannot produce at least one and usually many more pairs of worn shoes, boots, galoshes, etc., which are serving no good purpose but taking up space. It's fall house-cleaning time, Mrs. Housewife, and you'll never have a better opportunity to do a good turn for someone else and yourself at the same time. Just tie a string around each pair and drop them into the collection barrel or box at your nearest shoe store—and if there happens to be one or more odd shoes, or one good rubber or boot, don't throw them away but include them in the collection—there are thousands of unfortunate persons who have lost a foot in the battle to survive war and poverty.

Requests for information and posters may be placed with your nearest shoe retailer, or addressed to Michigan Shoe Retailers Association, 1504 Olds Tower, Lansing 4, Michigan.

Prevention Comes First

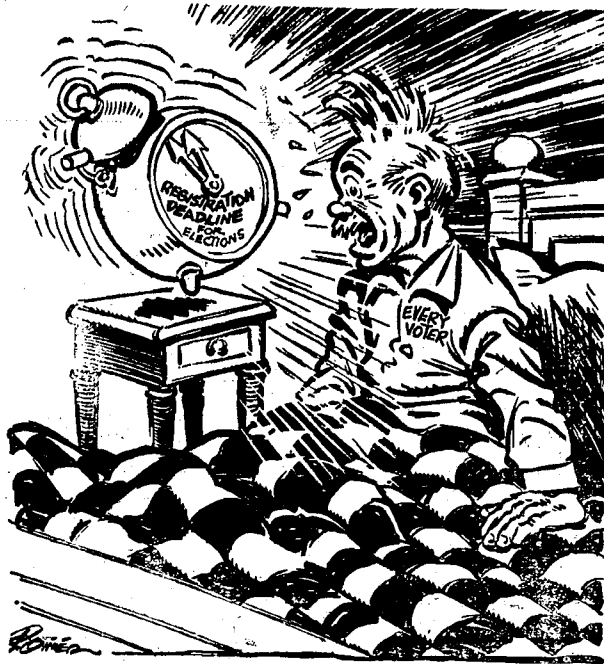

Outdoor News Bulletin, which is published by the Wildlife Management Institute, recently has this to say on the subject of floods: "If floods are to be stopped, they must be stopped at their source. Floods usually occur when spring cloudbursts strike snow-covered hillsides denuded by overgrazing, fire, unwise timbering operations, or agricultural activities on steep slopes. They still may be stopped if the valley farms are managed so as to capture the water and hold it on the land instead of letting it rush across fields and into the streams, carrying with it the vital elements of the soil and the soil itself. . . . Small dams below the watershed farms may check some of the volume of water, but the silt carried from the land soon will fill the artificial lakes behind them. The same thing occurs, multiplied many fold, as silt and debris-filled waters pile up behind big main-stream dams. . . ."

"Flood control has been used too often as an excuse for spending billions of the taxpayers' dollars for power projects. . . . America has only a small need for more flood control; it has a crying need for flood prevention."

Official government surveys show that by far the greatest amount of flood damage is done to farm land on the headwaters of streams—and that only a small part is done along the main streams. The big main-stream dams, which have been sold to the taxpayers on the theory that they would prevent floods and conserve the land as well as produce power, are thus largely useless. In many cases, notably in the TVA region, the enormous lakes built up behind them have permanently flooded far more good land than they can possibly protect.

The prevention of floods is necessary to this continent's future. And the largest part of the job can be achieved by proven farming practices which will keep the water on the land.

SHORT STORY

The Lucky Prize

By
MARION WALLS

FRED slapped the water from his hat, carefully removed his rubbers before stepping inside on the immaculate floor. It was good to be home, to be facing a relaxed evening while the storm lashed the outside world.

"Allie?" he called. The muffled reply sounded like, "Where else would I be, but in the kitchen?"
Pushing open

3-Minute Fiction

the door, Fred smiled appreciatively and kissed
his wife. "Apple
pie! Hm-mm.
The boys home
yet?" he inquired, glancing at the headlines.

"Ralph is! But Jack won't be home—they're having some kind of banquet at school."

Allie observed: "It's too bad they have such a bad night for the bingo party."

"Hm-mm . . ." The pie smelled delicious. Apprehension gripped
him. "What bingo party?"

Ralph barged in and his mother gave the boy an amused glance.
"Your father has the queerest memory. If it were a wrestling match or a ball game—" Looking at Fred:

"The bingo party I bought the tickets for last Monday. We have to go tonight."

He hedged. "Why do we have to go? You bought the tickets, that was the main thing they were interested in."

"But I like to play!" she insisted. "They have the grand prize—and you know how lucky I am!"

Thinking of the warmth, the un-
read magazines, Fred reflected un-happily that Allie might be lucky,
but he most certainly was not.

For Fred it was a particularly dull evening. He got no pleasure at all from pushing little wooden squares around on a piece of cardboard, and certainly no material gain came his way. Empty-handed,
after two hours of tiresome effort,
he looked across the room to find Allie triumphantly gathering up a set of glass ash trays and a string of plastic measuring spoons—

"I told you I was lucky!" she crowed, ignoring Mrs. Deerfield who was struggling past her with a set of glass crystal boudoir lamps.

Allie chattered happily all the way home; the rain had stopped and a half moon was struggling to come through the clouds. "Of course, we had plenty of ash trays, but they'll save me the expense of buying something the next time I entertain the club."

As they rolled into the drive Fred saw people standing on their porch.
"Gosh—Allie—look! Do you suppose there's been a fire?" He slammed on the brakes.

"Oh, Mrs. Jemison!" That was
Mrs. Haggerty who lived next door.
"Oh—if you'd been home!"

Apprehension gripped him—

"What happened?? Is it the—is it the boys?" began Allie fearfully.

"It's the phone! The Lucky Number program! They called your number and if you'd been home they were going to give you a thousand dollars! I bet on your door, thinking maybe you didn't hear—"

"No," said Allie, slowly . . .
"We weren't at home tonight."
With head high, she marched past
into the house.

Fred put away the car. A thousand dollars, just for staying at home, being comfortable! Going in the house, he didn't bother to wipe his feet. Allie was in the living room, the prizes nowhere in sight.

"Luck always hits twice," she said loudly. "Even lightning hits twice in the same place sometimes.
Why, some people say what happens once will happen three times. . . you can't tell, can you, Fred?"

"Nope," he grunted, easing out of his shoes.

Allie leaned forward eagerly.
"We'll stay home every night—
maybe they'll call again—they could do it, couldn't they, Fred?"

He thought of the happy evenings
at home which now confronted him.
"Why sure they could!" he agreed heartily. Again: "Sure it could happen again!"

He reached for a magazine, leaned back. He didn't know when a thousand dollars he hadn't gotten had ever bought as much.

Park's Seek Four Million

The 1949 legislature will be asked to appropriate $4,000,000 for development and improvements of Michigan's state parks and recreation areas.

Record-smashing attendance of 12,000,000 this year has overtaxed existing facilities in many parks.

Nearly half of the amount sought would be spent in southeastern Michigan areas close to metropolitan centers but the Conservation Department's projected improvement program embraces parks in all sections of the state.

Total amount requested for southeastern Michigan is $1,985,- 000. Biggest request is $776,000 for development of Sterling state park near Monroe. A hundred acres of beach and picnic area would be added by the hydraulic fill of swampy territory. Plans also call for extension of lines
from Monroe's city water system,
beach dressing booths, picnic tables and shade tree planting.

The $260,000 budgeted for Pontiac Lake recreation area would provide a bathhouse and make the picnic area larger and more inviting.

Improvements scheduled on the Rochester-Utica area are the planting of shade trees, estimated at $13,000; completion of a combination picnic shelter, toilet and recreation building, $39,000; construction of a bathhouse, $135,000;
and entrance roads to facilitate the movement of traffic, $40,000.

Development of an artificial lake and beach by construction of a dam on the Huron River in the Proud Lake recreation area would cost $330,000. When finished, this beach will accommodate 5,000 to 6,000 persons.

Bay City state park would get a bathhouse and concession building designed to service the beach and part of the picnic area, which would have a total capacity of 7, 500 to 8,000 visitors. Estimated cost is $257,000. A sewage system planned for the park would cost $155,000.

Grand Haven state park, most popular park in the system where lack of space causes hundreds of campers to be turned away each season, would benefit by expansion of the camping area, installation of water supply and electrical services, and construction of a campground toilet, laundry and shower building. Estimated cost is $195,000.

Construction of a combination toilet, laundry and shower building for the campground, landscape development of the entrance, installation of park water and sewage disposal systems, and construction of a bathhouse and concession building are included in the $449,000 budget for Warren Dunes state park south of St.
Joseph.

In the Upper Peninsula, $186,- 000 is scheduled for the Porcupine Mountains state park. This sum would be used to develop ski trails and install ski-tow equipment, construct a bridge across the Presque Isle River, build roads to picnic and camping areas, construct parking areas at top of escarpment at Lake of the Clouds and build a shelter and concession building.

The $155,000 budgeted for Tahquamenon Falls state park
would provide for improvement of the highway to both the upper and lower falls, a drive and parking area for the upper falls, and a toilet, laundry and shower building at the lower falls campground.

Other parks and recreation areas included in the proposed improvement program and for which funds are requested are In-terlochen, E. J. Connelley, Orchard Beach, Harrisville, Oscego Lake,
Ludington, Muskegon, Higgins
Lake, Holland, Dodge Brothers, 4
southwest of Pontiac, and Hayes
state parks, and Island Lake, Brighton, Pickney, Holly and Metamora recreation areas.

The proposed budget would cover the program until June 30, 1951.

The "New Look" In Fabrics

The "New Look" is present this year in fabrics and trimmings as well as in the style of the garments. Metals have entered the fall fashion picture in some very beautiful and interesting fabrics, reports Virginia Vance, Home Demonstration Agent.

Metallic woollens are best suited for simple styles with emphasis on the fabric rather than on style detail. Metallic crepes get the same simple style treatment.

Metal fabrics with a "weedy" look are also being shown.

Two new fabric contrast combinations are wool jersey and taffeta and wool crepe and satin. Scarf and cuffs of taffeta give the jersey a "rustle."

Another fabric is wool chiffon which is being used for daytime wear. This material looks like jersey but neither sags or stretches. It is used for simple sweater-like bodices joined to slim, stitched accorcion pleated skirts.

New fall trimming idea is the use of embroidered eyelet on black wool used either on the skirt or bodice of dresses. Novelty vestee effects on daytime dresses with tucks, braid or a reflection of the skirt trimmings picked up in the vestee are also being used.

Michigan 4th In "Duck Stamps"

Michigan wildfowlers bought 91,394 federal "duck stamps" last year to put the state in fourth place in the nation. A total of 1,722,877 stamps were sold.

There was a big drop, nationwide and state, from the 1946 sale of 2,016,718 stamps. Michigan gunners bought 117,294 stamps that year.

The decline is attributed by Albert M. Day, director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, to the drastic waterfowl hunting regulations of 1947 which were designed to bring about a substantial reduction in the kill of ducks and geese.

Largest sale in the fiscal year ending last June 30 was 145,926 in Minnesota. California was second with 137,279, and Texas third with 121,116.

Sold for $1 at post offices, the duck stamps provide funds that help finance the federal government's wildlife refuge programs. Every person over 16 years who hunts migratory waterfowl is required to carry a stamp of current issue with his signature in ink across the face. Many stamps are sold to collectors.

Expect Approval of 25,000 Acre Auction

The Conservation Commission is expected to approve the auction of approximately 25,000 acres of state-owned lands in 15 counties at its meeting October 8.

The list includes Kalamazoo County lands near the new Beaver Creek field in Crawford and Kalamazoo Counties and a 20-acre parcel near producing wells in the Pentwater field, Mason County. Tentative auction date is October 29. The sale will be held in Lansing.

Teacher Association.

On Wednesday evening of last week this welcoming party for the new and old teachers was given in the normal way. The gym was simply but effectively decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves. Card tables and chairs were placed about to give the place a home like appearance.

President Mrs. Carl Richardson welcomed the teachers and parents, and Supt. Frank Bond introduced the teachers. A musical program followed. Mrs. Emil Niederer on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. June Gros, played "Old Fashioned Town," by Squire, and "A Tree in the Meadow," by V. Herbert and he and Mrs. Gros sang "No, No, Is the Hour." The Grayling High School German Band introduced by LeRoy Christian then played several numbers to close the program. Members of the band were Jack Richardson, Bob Smith, Jim Kumpula, George Kessler and Lee Nolan.

Cake and coffee were served buffet style from a table centered with an attractive bouquet of fall flowers, arranged and donated by Kennedy Flower Shop. Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Roy Milnes presided.

The lunch committee was chairmaned by Mrs. Fred Lamm, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Gross, Mrs. Bill Rankin, Mrs. Alva Stephan and Mrs. Alex Atkinson. Mrs. Harry Souders assisted by Mrs. Robert Strong made up the decorating committee. Mrs. Norval Stephan was general chairman of the party. Mrs. Van Smith was in charge of arranging escorts for the teachers.

These annual affairs are always conducive to a spirit of friendliness between parents and teachers which is one of the finest assets of any community.

Call Study On State's Boards

A thorough study of Michigan's conglomeration of boards, bureaus, commissions and departments was called for today by the Michigan Public Expenditure Survey, state taxpayer organization.

Pointing out that 102 separate administrative agencies now perform state functions, Henry Steffens, Survey director, said that, "The need for the 1,000 and more state services should be re-established."

The Michigan Survey has just issued a bulletin which attempts to answer the question, "What does the State do?" The report lists the 300 duties performed by the State's 102 administrative agencies. More than 400 persons, supervise these agencies, the release said. More of these are unpaid commissioners who are only indirectly responsible to elected officials and to the people.

More than a half-billion dollars will be allocated by the State this year Steffens said. This is a tremendous amount, but, "the figure will not be reduced substantially," he said, "until the governor and legislature are sufficiently informed to make budget reductions."

In order to clear up this situation, the Survey suggests that Michigan appoint a study commission to evaluate the "why, what, when, where, who and how of all our state activities to determine the feasibility of the various services rendered by Michigan."

The release said that such a study could be made along the lines now being followed by the Hoover Commission on the national level. This agency is exploring the boundaries of national government functions in the light of their cost, their usefulness, their limitations, and their curtailment or elimination.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Get The Truth!

Called on my good friend "Cappy" Miller, who edits the County Bee, the other day. And hanging up on the wall of Cappy's office is this slogan for his paper:

"Remember there are two sides to every question. Get both sides. Be truthful."

A good slogan... not just for a newspaper—for people, too. Because there'll always be two sides to every question: the side of those who vote one way, and those who vote another—the side of those who enjoy a temperate beverage like beer or ale, and of those who swear by nothing but cider.

And from where I sit, once you've got both sides—and faced them truthfully, you realize that these differences of opinion are a precious part of what we call Democracy—the right of the individual to vote as he believes, to speak his mind, to choose his own beverage of moderation, whether beer or cider.

Windup Biggest Stream Improvement Work Ever

Biggest improvement program ever undertaken on Michigan streams is ending for the 1948 season this week with transfer of crews to lake improvement projects.

Seventy-nine men in 15 crews have built erosion structures and wing deflectors, rechanneled streams and dug pools using bulldozers in first tests of such equipment for improvement work. The program got under way in July when a $200,000 appropriation for the purpose became available to the conservation department's fish division.

Improvements completed in recent weeks include a diversion dam on the Little Manistee River in Lake County, new deflectors on the Clam River, outlet of Lake Cadillac, cement bank structures on the Huron River in Washtenaw County, and wing deflectors and cement structures on the North Branch of the AuSable River where bulldozers also were used.

Work on the last-named stream is still in progress.

Crews improved one mile of stream on the Huron River; five miles on the White River, Newaygo County; built erosion structures on the Pere Marquette River, Lake County; improved three miles of Bear Creek, Manistee County; three miles, Pigeon River, Otsego County; eight miles, West Branch of Sturgeon River, Cheboygan County; one mile, Gamble Creek, Rye River (Grousehaven) area, Ogemaw County; six miles, Manistee River, Crawford County; five miles, Hopkins Creek, Missaukee County, where new deflectors were added in continuing a program started prior to this year; five miles, East Branch of Fox River, Schoolcraft County; two miles, Cedar River, Menominee County; where heavy stone structures were built to withstand ice pressure in spring months; five miles, Middle Branch of Ontonagon River, Gogebic County; and seven miles, East and West Branches of Firesteel River, Ontonagon County. Crews transferring to winter lake improvement work will build brush shelters and get out logs for next summer's stream improvement program. The late summer program for logging has been slowed by difficulty in securing trucks, boats, and other needed equipment.

Michigan Mirror

At a cost of $1 a year Michigan is to become the 33rd state to provide its governor with a home. The state administrative board has accepted an offer from the City of Lansing whereby the state's 17-room Orlando M. Barnes residence, located at the south end of Capitol Avenue, will be leased for a period of 50 years. The annual rental is $1.

Built 73 years ago in the elegant Victorian manner, the Barnes home has long been a showplace of the capital city. Barnes, an attorney, was identified with industrial, lumber and railroad enterprises. He served three terms as mayor and once ran unsuccessfully for governor on the Democratic ticket.

Capital news round-up:

Aroused by killing of 200,000 fish in the Kalamazoo River, the state stream control commission is considering state-wide restrictions on cyanide discharge by industries into public waters. The Union Steel Products Company, Albion, was the offender.

The Upper Peninsula community industrial survey, sponsored by the state department of economic development, has been published in a booklet. Thirteen thousand copies will be distributed in an effort to attract new industries to the region.

As a result of the primary elections, 30 or more new legislators are likely to take their seats in the house and senate next January. Among the changes will be the replacement of Senators Bishop, Down, Fletcher and Calahan. Senator Don Vanderwerp, Fremont, unopposed for reelection, is being groomed for his old job as chairman of the senate finance committee.

County governments in Michigan were more than $8 million in the red for the year 1947. Revenues totaled $88.6 million, while expenditures were $96.8 million.

County road commissions received $26,118,000 from the state; the commission spent $26,981,000 for road construction and maintenance.

Michigan's state parks enjoyed an attendance of 11.5 million persons last year. A total of 130,271 acres of land are administered by the conservation commission.

In an effort to control the rising cost of state publications, Controller John A. Perkins of the state department of administration has created the post of state printing director. All agencies must submit printing requests to the budget division for the director's O.K. A legislative committee has estimated the total cost, printing and labor, at $1,000,000 a year.

Property assessments are not uniform throughout the state, charges State Bar of Michigan which asks Governor Sigler to appoint a study committee. The remedy proposed by attorneys:

Faulty brakes cause more accidents on the road than any other defect. Be sure your brakes are right. And be sure your insurance is right, too! See us today. Let us help you with your insurance problems.

Give the state tax commission power to equalize property assessments.

The Wayne Medical Society has asked oculists and opticians to discontinue the rebate system whereby part of the cost of glasses is rebated by some supply houses to eye doctors without knowledge of patients. The Detroit Better Business Bureau has been pushing the reform.

Iron ore resources of the Upper Peninsula will continue to provide employment for thousands of miners. Such is indicated by availability of a new process, costing $2 per ton, for production of pig iron from low-grade taconite ore. The process was developed in Minnesota.

A 14-member committee of legislators has been studying Governor Sigler's streamlining proposals for modernizing of state government.

If prices reach their apex of the post war inflation this winter, as is now forecast by many leading economists, the state sales tax will hit its high point of revenue. The budget division still is convinced that State government is headed inevitably for red ink financing in the near future.

Michelson Memorial Church School Notes

Rally Day was observed in the Michelson Memorial Church School last Sunday with 48 present in the primary department and 64 in the junior-intermediate department for a total attendance of 110. Members of the administration class welcomed members and teachers as they arrived, presenting each with a gaily-colored lapel pin. After the usual devotional services all classes met for their first session with new teachers, last Sunday having been promotion day.

Mrs. Leonard Allison was introduced as the new seventh grade teacher in the intermediate department. Congratulations were sung by Bobbie Strong, one of the newly received members of the junior department, who recently celebrated a birthday anniversary. Many of the older young people stayed for the church service to participate in the observance of World-Wide Communion.

The Youth Fellowship met in the evening and discussed plans for the fall program which included Sunday evening services, recreational activities, and a nursery to care for small children during the morning worship service. An over-night was planned for this week end.

The Fall Family Night was scheduled for Wednesday evening, with all church and church school families invited to participate in a potluck supper and social hour. Attendance awards earned in the past six months were to be presented at this time.

Bear Employees Enjoy Picnic

Seventy people, employees of the Bear Archery Company, their wives and husbands were guests of the company at a picnic Sunday at Camp Arrowhead on the Manistee River, through the courtesy of Mrs. Wm. Brownell and her son, Fred. Although Mrs. Brownell is in Connecticut, she had extended the invitation.

Folks began to arrive at ten o'clock and enjoyed taking part in such contests as bow making, egg throwing, rolling pin throw, 3 legged races, wheelbarrow races and the like.

Frank Scott gave a shooting demonstration and a square dance was in swing to accordion music played by Bob Meaker with Middle LaMotte calling.

The keynote was an archery tournament on the unique archery range. All shot from canoe. Mr. Brownell furnished canoes. This is the first course ever attempted solely from canoe and was so successful that it is felt other archers will follow suit where they have the streams available to lay out such courses. Roy Stevenson was winner in the men's tournament and Mrs. Robert Meaker carried away the honors for the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Ballman of Midland spent the week end
down river.

Steve Jennings and family spent the week end at his cottage at Shaw's Park. Steve brought his bow and arrow to try his luck,
but has to come again. He expected to take his mother back with him, but she thought it best to stay home as she hasn't been feeling very well. So he hopes to take her next time.

About 75 or 80 years ago my grandfather, E. P. Nelson, settled in Grayling, Michigan, arriving there just before the rails were laid on the railroad. He homesteaded the piece of land where the water tank and round house now stands, my mother then a baby was one of the first white children to live permanently in Grayling. I would like very much to get in touch with any of the old timers who may have known this family. I will be in Grayling October 12 to 24. Please drop me a card or telephone Rev.
Barry of the Baptist Church.
Rev. A. N. Fields.

Jack Papendick, Ray Clement,

Central Michigan College, Mt.
Pleasant, Mich., has been elected constitutional committee chairman for Ronon Hall dormitory for men. Johnson is pursuing a pre-law course at Central Michigan.

pital, Friday morning.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Special October 12 through 24, nightly, 8 to 9 o'clock, Rev. A. N.
Fields will be speaking at Calvary Baptist Church from the book of Revelations, the last book of the Bible.

The Book of Revelation is a Revelation Unveiling of Jesus Christ, the Man who would not stay dead, who will not be denied His Kingdom and is now sitting at the right hand of the Father in Heaven waiting the hour when He is to come forth to make His enemies His footstool. He who was once a lamb but is now the Lion of the tribe of Judah.

Some of the subjects that will be dealt with in this study.

Where and what is Jesus Christ
Now?

Will the Earth always be a mad house, if not who will be its deliverer?

Is the true Church about to disappear?

Is the Anti-Christ at hand?
